Many of Webster's boys have gone forth generously and unafraid to uphold the ideals of this country. Some will not return; yet they will have given us a brave, new world, and will remain immortal in the hearts of those they've left behind.

Miss Minnie Essig—quiet, patient, interested in the individual student—always manifested a spirit of unselfish service. She was a true friend as well as teacher, and her fine spirit lives on as an influence among all who knew her.

Mr. L. H. Wirthlin, as assistant to the superintendent in charge of buildings, rendered a genuine service to Webster High. Friendly, cooperative, always eager to help others, he won the confidence and admiration of the entire community.

We wish to show our appreciation to our School Board, our administrators, and our faculty for their interest and co-operation, without which many activities and the type of school spirit which we desire would be impossible. It is largely through their efforts that Webster has become an outstanding school for education and wholesome recreation.

School spirit has the same place in a high school as yeast has in a loaf of bread. Yeast gives to a mass of flour the quality of life. School spirit transforms a mass of people—students and faculty members—into a living, working group.

The life qualities of yeast remain dormant unless the right combination of ingredients and proper growing conditions are present. School spirit, too, must be constantly nurtured and developed, if it is to flourish. The very base of school spirit is the quality of work that goes on in the classrooms, the shops, the laboratories, and the gymnasiums of the school. This base can be flavored and enriched and given color by such activities as music, dramatics, debate, athletics, and others.

Every student can help nurture school spirit by finding ways in his own daily life through which he can contribute to the school. He can do his work to the best of his ability; he can conduct himself like a well-controlled citizen of a democratic institution. He can perform tribute to students, to their associates, and to the school.

Faculty members also have a stake in school spirit. They must believe in the young people with whom they work. They must believe in education and democracy. They must be more interested in people than they are in things. They, too, must be willing to serve and to contribute to students, to their associates, and to the school.

When all the members of an organization, such as the Webster Groves High School, begin to put into that school the services of which they are capable, the living qualities of the yeast are released. It is then that school spirit makes your high school experience such an outstanding event in your life that you keep turning back to it with pride down through the years.

—WILLARD E. GOSLIN

Administrators

High school days are soon to become memories. For an alumnus who has invested his four years at Webster Groves High School wisely and happily, they bring a warm glow of satisfaction, affection, loyalty, and almost a reverence for a fine Alma Mater. For him "Webster High" or the "Webster Spirit" has rich meaning.

It meant a well tempered, day by day investment in work and play. He gained a well rounded education.

It meant a genuine democratic concern for his fellow-men—a sincere practice of the common courtesies, a high sense of fair play and a willingness to share.—He enjoyed a rich fellowship and has made lasting friendships.

He appreciated the freedom to do and to grow, and cherished it so that he used a keen sense of honor and responsibility in helping to maintain it.—He realized self-direction and self-reliance.

He volunteered his services freely but wisely. He was a loyal follower and a dependable leader. He supported all worthy activities. He placed the interests of his school above his.—He attained a true respect for himself, for his fellow classmates, and for his school.

United in ideals, spirit and will, these students make the "Webster Spirit"; these alumni revere "Webster High."

Fifty Years Dedicated to Youth

We know of no other person who has given so much service in our school as Mr. Hixson. His strong Christian character and spirit and his high standard of scholarship have exerted an enduring and far-reaching influence. His keen sense of humor, firm but reasonable discipline, genuine interest in each individual student as well as in every activity and problem of our school—all of these qualities have made Mr. Hixson a symbol of the spirit of Webster Groves High School.

*You are a prized student and a joy in the study hall. May you have the best of

There has never been an occasion so memorable in the story of our school as the ceremony planned by the students themselves to pay tribute to Mr. Hixson, our retiring principal. Nearly 2,000 students assembled in the natural amphitheatre next to the school; and as Mr. Hixson approached, they spontaneously rose and gave sincere applause in appreciation of his having unselfishly devoted thirty-seven of his fifty years in education toward making Webster High what it is today. Mr. Hixson, greatly moved, received several beautiful gifts and then expressed his complete surprise and gratitude. The students cheered, sang the Alma Mater, and quietly returned to their classes, inspired to carry on the ideals and spirit of this man.

The Junior Class has taken an outstanding part in the extracurricular activities of the senior school. Many juniors have held positions of leadership in music, athletics, dramatics, publication staffs, Student Council, Red Cross, language clubs and Pan Am club.

On February 17 the basket ball game between the Junior and Senior classes was held in the armory. Fighting stiff opposition, the Seniors won 33 to 20.

During the year the guidance office and the advisers checked high school and college entrance credits and gave information concerning various college and military training programs. The Vocational Inventory Test and the Minnesota Paper Form Board Test were given.

Although the class was organized in the fall when the officers were elected and each member was assessed twenty cents, most of the work was done in the home rooms rather than through the class as a unit. The students of Mr. Knepper's home room were among the most active in school. They initiated the "mile of dimes" campaign, and using a scale, they balanced weights with nickels until they collected more than forty dollars for the Red Cross.

The Junior Class as a whole contributed $130.99 to the Red Cross Drive, and bought approximately $1,200.00 in war bonds and stamps during the Fourth War Loan Drive. In addition they contributed, as did all, to the Russian Relief and worked in the craft groups sponsored by Miss Rowley and Miss Bynum. They made hospital favors and supplies, games, scrapbooks, cross-word puzzles, and menu cards.

The conference teachers are: Miss Bailey, Miss Campbell, Miss Doud, Mr. Fues, Miss Gann, Mr. Knepper, Miss Prieur, Miss Schowengerdt, Miss Helen Toner, and Miss Winifred Toner; and the counselor is Miss Iona Jones.

Although the Sophomore Class did not elect officers in the fall, it has been active in the clubs and social activities of the senior school. Sophomores held an important place in boys' and girls' athletics, Latin Club, Pan Am, Red Cross, and Student Council. The girls, working with Miss Epps and Miss Colletti, organized the Tri-Y; and similarly, the boys, with Mr. Shelton as sponsor, organized the Junior Hi-Y.

Miss Epps, the counselor, and the various advisers worked individually with new students to help them make the adjustment to life in a new school, and individual conferences were held to check high school programs and credits.

Because the class was too large to meet together often, most of the work was carried on through the home rooms. Material concerning extracurricular activities was presented in the conference periods, and students were urged to join groups in which they had special interests.

The sophomore home rooms, working with all the home rooms in the school, were active in the War Bond and Red Cross drives, in the Red Cross craft groups, and in the Russian Relief campaign. The sophomores alone contributed $70.50 to the Red Cross and bought approximately $1,200.00 worth of bonds and stamps in the Fourth War Loan Drive. The craft groups made afghans, hospital favors, games, menu cards, scrapbooks, and cross-word puzzles.

The purpose of the Echo Annual during its thirty-one years of publication has been to portray school life realistically by both formal and informal pictures. This year it has again attempted to give students a vivid and lasting record of high school days, a pictorial record incomparable to any other.

The grand co-operation of the twenty-five staff members and the student body as a whole helped to make this a successful year.

One of the nicest things about working for "The Echo" was the fact that there was always a chance to help with all the various jobs. Often in emergencies, such as rushing to meet a deadline, each person was called upon to leave his individual job and give help where it was most needed.

However, being on the annual staff did not always require hard work, and even when it did, there was always fun and laughter mixed with it, as you would know if you had ever strolled by 201 during sixth hour.

Many privileges were given to the staff members such as meeting and working with photographers, engravers, printers, and other business men, and learning all about how a yearbook is made. It surprised most of the staff to learn just how much work and worry is required for a book like this one you're now looking at.

The staff lowered the cost of the book for subscribers by selling advertising and at a small profit such things as supplies at the bookstore, candy after school, Turkey Day buttons, and pencils with the basket ball schedule printed on them.

This year, as in the past, the Echo Annual Staff, under the sponsorship of Miss Schowengerdt, has tried to give you a book truly representative of school life at Webster. Moreover, every member agrees that working on the yearbook has been a grand experience never to be forgotten.

The Webster Echo looks back on its twenty-eighth year of publication with a feeling of satisfaction at having achieved at least some of its ideals.

In serving the school itself, the paper has tried to foster "real" school spirit, and to give constructive criticism of school policies in its editorials—that is, constructive, if they are read! It has tried to be fair in the use of space for various departmental activities, cutting down on all to some extent in order to devote space to important war and peace projects. The Feature Page has played down trite and monotonous gossip and has tried to present the "personal doin's" of students in a new light.

Although the work this year has presented many responsibilities, the staff, under the sponsorship of Miss Howard, has done its best to assume them, and has managed to have a pretty good time as well!

One student from each home room is a member of the Student Council, which consists of an Upper School House and a Lower School House. The purpose of this organization is to further democracy, and to give students a voice in school affairs and experience in democratic living. Both houses were equally responsible for the running of the Lost and Found Department, and for managing the election of school presidents. This year Don Torr was the president of both houses; Melvin Hofmeister, of the Upper House; and Randy Martin of the Lower House.

The main projects of the Upper House, under "Doc" Schulz, have been: sponsoring the Activity Ticket, giving noon dances, stimulating participation in the War Loan Drives, and presenting a dance.

The main projects of the Lower House, under Miss Henneke, have been: giving noon dances, conducting a noon study hall, presenting a matinee dance, and posting information on the Junior School bulletin board.

The Hi-Y maintained an active membership of about fifty and had a very successful year under the leadership of Bob Watkins, the president, and Mr. Hixson, the sponsor. At Thanksgiving the organization combined with the Kirkwood Hi-Y to present the annual Friendship Dance. One of the Hi-Y's most important projects was the publication of the "Buzz Book," and the most outstanding meeting of the year was the banquet held on February 28 at the Webster "Y." A favorite activity of the boys was playing basket ball, and their many interesting programs included speakers and movies.

The Junior Hi-Y was organized after the Christmas holidays under the sponsorship of Coach Bryant. This organization, which consisted largely of Freshman boys, began its activities by forming a basket ball league, which the members carried on during their Monday night meetings. Other meetings were devoted to programs and discussions.

The Pep Club was the largest organization at Webster this year, with a membership of approximately 200. The club is formed of girls who are interested in athletics and in maintaining and promoting a good school spirit. Under the sponsorship of Miss Troester, the club has carried out many varied activities.

This organization was called the Yellow Jackets until five years ago, when the present name was adopted. The Yellow Jackets were organized in 1924 by a group of girls who were interested in increasing enthusiasm at Webster for athletics. Since that year the club has grown in size and activities, and though the original name has been discarded, the girls still carry on the ideals and purposes of those who founded it.

Very instrumental in raising school spirit this year were the seven cheerleaders: Jean Dekker, Bets Widmer, Lucy Rieth, David Menne, Don Beecher, George Schneider, and Bob Browne. They attended regularly all pep rallies, assemblies, and games, never failing to be out there leading the crowd and yelling for our team. They originated and introduced many clever new cheers, and on the whole were great morale boosters of both the players on the teams and the students in the audience. A great attraction was added by the adoption of a mascot, a white goat named Satan. The appearance of Satan, all dressed up in his orange and black blanket made by one of the members of Pep Club, created a mild sensation at the football game. Satan's career was untimely ended by a vicious dog, however, and another goat, Beelzebub, took his place to finish out the year. In previous years the cheerleaders were chosen by the Pep Club alone, but this year's leaders were elected by the vote of the whole school.

The officers of the Pep Club for this past year were very competent and undoubtedly were largely responsible for the many successful activities and the unusually large membership. The positions held were as follows: Mary Krimmel, President; Mary Conzelman, Vice-President; Dorothy Monroe, Secretary-Treasurer.

In September the club gave a rush party to tell prospective new members about the activities and ideals of the organization. The club is open to any sophomore girl, but conditions for membership are that she must attend all athletic contests played at Webster and must wear a white blouse at school the day before a game to signify that she is in the Pep Club. She must also attend as many games played away from Webster as possible.

At various meetings during the year the girl cheerleaders greatly enlivened meetings and increased the pep of all the girls by practicing new cheers with the club.

During the football season, members of the Pep Club sold cokes at the home games. All the members of the club were supposed to sit in a special section of the grandstand in order to give better support to the cheerleaders. Several times this section was decorated by the club with orange and black crepe paper, and the goal posts were decorated by the cheerleaders.

On February 5th a backward dance, entitled "The Basket Ball," was given by the Pep Club. The purpose of this dance was to arouse interest in the basket ball season then in progress. Near the end of the season, the club experimented at the games with the novel idea of flashing from the stands large cards which spelled out "Webster." The effect was very good, and next year this plan will undoubtedly be carried on with even greater success.

The Pep Club has done very well in carrying out its ideals and achieving its purposes. This past year has been an outstanding one in the history of the organization.

Girls Athletic Association

The purpose of the Girls Athletic Association is to promote good sportsmanship and a feeling of cooperation. The year was started off by a rush party to introduce younger girls to the club, and in December the new members were initiated. One hundred points earned in after-school sports are required for initiation. Also, to retain membership, a hundred points must be earned each year.

According to the G. A. A. custom, a backward dance was given on April 22, during which the Kampus King was crowned. In the spring a banquet was given and awards were presented to those who earned them by participation in various sports throughout the year.

Officers for this year were: President, Kathleen Zakarian; Vice-President, Mary Krimmel; Secretary, Marion LeFrank; Treasurer, Betty Widmer; Sergeant-at-Arms, Dorothy Monroe. The sponsor was Miss Troester.

With the able leadership of Johnny Wright and Bill Stone and under the sponsorship of Miss Doud, the 120 members of the Pan Am Club have had a very busy year. When the Town Hall discussions and the Y. M. C. A. travel lectures were started, the club took the responsibility of providing ushers for each of these meetings. Another project, which was carried on throughout the year with the assistance of the Art Department, was sending a book of photographs depicting school life in Webster to Uruguay. In April, as a part of the celebration of Pan American Week, the club gave an assembly before the student body and took part in a parade in St. Louis with a float representing Venezuela.

The Pan Am Club was divided into six study councils, each of which studied a particular locality; and meetings for either the councils or the club as a whole were usually held twice a month.

The Latin Club, now completing its nineteenth year under Miss Farmer's helpful guidance, is one of the school's largest and most active organizations. Bimonthly programs of varied interest were presented during the year, including interesting talks by Mr. Hixson and Dr. Norman J. De Witt, a mythology program, charades by each Latin class, and a parody on the "Aeneid" presented by the Vergil class. The Christmas party and the traditional June banquet, which climaxed the year, were both gala events.

The celebration of the Third Annual Latin Week included an assembly, an essay contest, and panel discussions on the value of Cicero and Vergil given in the beginning Latin and Caesar classes.

Besides having a busy social calendar and many programs of great intellectual interest, the Latin Club sent $41.00 to Farmington Orphanage at Christmas time, and presented the Red Cross with $15.00 and two afghans made by Latin Club members.

The "Latinus Rumor," published by the Latin Club under Miss Farmer's direction, contains both humorous and serious articles as well as illustrated headlines and crossword puzzles. The paper was issued ten times this year to 300 Webster students and ten alumni in branches of the service or various colleges throughout the country. Enlarged issues were published at Christmas and in celebration of Latin Week.

Le Cercle Francais

The members of Le Cercle Francais have enjoyed a very active year. A season of varied programs commenced with a picnic-initiation, and the following meetings included interesting French movies and speakers. Le Jour des Rois was observed by an evening spent playing French games. The active members, under the sponsorship of Miss Woods, feel they have gained invaluable educational experience.

The twenty-six seniors who compose the Chemistry Club meet in Room 205 every other Wednesday. The members plan their own meetings, and under the watchful eye of "Doc" Schulz have presented many experiments, including some on electrolysis, black light, and water purification. The club also made a trip to a plastic display at Jefferson College.

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club selected for its team six members: Blatt, Dunavant, Yates, Robina, Fitch, and Taussig, captain. This team, sponsored by Mr. Hicks and Mr. Knepper, placed second in the Greater St. Louis Junior Rifle League. They fired in the Washington University invitation tournament in which they took second place, defeating three military academies. The team fired an all-time high score for Webster with 736 points out of a possible 800.

Sykes, Henry, Gautier, Robina, Dunavant, Mitchell, Lewis.
Mr. Hicks, Simandl, Haggren, Major, Lonergan, Fitch, Mr. Knepper.

 Carle, Bannon, Bachle, Rieth, Wolf, Moore, B. Chase, Erganian, McGee, Linnemeyer, Obourn, M. Chase.

This year the Junior Red Cross, under Miss Allen and Miss Bynum, helped the war effort in many ways. In the membership drive every student joined the Red Cross. Some of the activities were: filling boxes for children overseas, distributing Christmas presents to soldiers, sending presents to the blind, and knitting afghans. Also approximately $550 was given in the National Red Cross Drive of March.

Library Staff

The students who donated their services to the high school library this year were among the hardest workers in school. These students, under the direction of Miss Allen and Mrs. Hafner, checked the library books, helped keep sources of information in order, and spent a great deal of time looking for library material. Also through them the students were notified of new books.

"Act well your part; there all the honor lies" is the motto of the National Thespian Honor Society. To be eligible one must have completed one hundred hours of outside work, and demonstrated the "Thespian spirit" of cooperation, dependability, and unselfishness. Thespians is a non-secret and non-social organization. Besides two meetings with the Clayton Thespians, two initiations were held.

Production Staff

The Production Staff is an essential part of every Little Theatre play, for successful productions are impossible without complete cooperation of those working on the stage crew, lights, costumes, make-up, properties, business, publicity, and house. The purpose of the Production Staff is to give credit where credit is due, for few people realize the amount of time and hard work spent by those "behind the scenes."

Obrycki, Asaki, Rauch, McGee, Jean Roschke, Elbrecht, Kuhn, Mitchell, Throm, Krimmel.

The Office Assistants, commercial majors under the direction of Mrs. Greeson, "bridge the gap" between formal classroom study and business office through actual experience in the various offices of the school. Their activities include such duties as receiving callers, typing, taking dictation for teachers, bookkeeping, filing office records, receiving telephone calls, and delivering messages.

Boys Glee Club

The Boys Glee Club was organized for ninth and tenth grade boys last fall under the direction of Miss Replogle. It was formed primarily for the enjoyment of the boys, and except for one assembly program, they made no public appearances. This group helped with the painting and shifting of scenery in the Vespers and "Good News."

A lively outdoor get-together made an appropriate beginning for the A Cappella Choir this year. The first public appearance was made at the State Teachers Meeting, and throughout the year the choir continued to sing for various school functions and civic organizations. The traditional Christmas Vesper Service, after being given at school, was repeated at Jefferson Barracks; and the musical comedy "Good News" was presented in the spring.

Beginning Choir

This year Beginning A Cappella Choir worked with the Advanced Choir not only in the Christmas Vespers, but also in the musical comedy "Good News." In both, the scenery and backstage work were the responsibility of the Beginning Choir. Toward the end of the year a musical program was given for the parents of the choir members.

Symphonic Band

This year the band, with Mr. Lemcke as sponsor, has been very active, having played for several P. T. A. meetings, for the American Legion, and for other organizations. Several members appeared in the All-County Band, and in April the whole band entered the music festival at University City. The biggest event of the year was the spring concert. Officers were: President, Jim Jewett; Vice-President, Jim Schaffner; Secretary, Jane Hart; Treasurer, Ray Houghton; Assistant Director, Louis Wenzel; Librarians, Don Herman and Don Thompson.

Lower School Instrumental Music

During the fifth hour, students of the lower school who are interested in music have an opportunity to meet together and are given fundamental training to increase their technical efficiency. This group is interested not only in the playing of music, but in the appreciation and theory of it as well. A text compiled by Mr. Lemcke, the class teacher, and by Dr. C. W. Kern, is used in the weekly study of musical theory. The future members of the band and orchestra receive their training in this lower school group.

Concert Orchestra

Nice to have met you feeling crushing

The concert orchestra is made up of advanced upper school music students who meet every sixth period and who wish to develop appreciation and love of good music as well as skill in performance. The biggest undertaking of this past year was playing the musical score for the operetta "Good News." Much time and energy were spent both during and after school in preparing the music for performances. The orchestra, under the sponsorship of Mr. Werner, gave several concerts at other schools and played for community organizations.

Chamber Music Ensemble

The Chamber Music Club, sponsored by Mr. Werner, was organized two years ago for the purpose of studying the various phases of ensemble music and giving the members actual experience in playing chamber music. True appreciation of chamber music is another goal of the organization. This year the major activities of the club were playing at evening performances of the dramatic productions and entering ensembles and soloists in the University City Music Festival.

Following the lead of Coaches Moss and Smith, Co-Captains Grinnell and Stein led the Statesmen through a very successful season. They played a tough, eight-game schedule winning six games and dropping two. The Webster eleven amassed 138 points while holding their opponents to 67.

Opening the season at home against C. B. C., the Statesmen got off on the right foot with a 14-0 victory. A week later, St. Louis-Central was shut-out by the same score. In the first league game against Ritenour on a muddy field the Orange and Black continued winning to the tune of 25 to 6.

With high hopes, Webster next invaded the territory of the highly favored U. City Indians, who later went on to cop the County championship. In the first quarter the Indians were given a real scare, when Webster continually threatened the U. City goal line. However, the Indians were too fleet-footed and the Statesmen went down fighting, with a score of 6 to 25.

Coming back strong after their first defeat, the smooth Webster machine conquered Normandy, Clayton, and Maplewood; all by decisive scores.

The Pioneers were rushed off their feet with two lightning touchdown thrusts that put Webster 14-0 ahead. Perhaps it looked too easy—at any rate, Kirkwood kept plugging, and while the Statesmen's attack continued to be smooth as silk in mid-field, it always slowed down to a walk inside the 20-yard line. Final score: Kirkwood 19, Webster 14.

The success of the 1943 Statesmen was characterized by teamwork rather than by individual stars. However, Allen (end) was named on several all-star teams; Frier (back), Grinnell (center), Keller (back), Nooter (tackle), Croghan (tackle), and Stein (guard) received honorable mention on one or more all-star aggregations.

"B" and "C" Football

Coach Bryant, mentor of the 1943 "B" team, produced a group of boys who were unbeatable in five games. The Junior Statesmen amassed a total of 57 points, while holding their opponents scoreless. The team started the season by beating Clayton 7-0 on the loser's field. Ritenour was the next victim of the powerful eleven, losing 25-0. Then came the arch rivals, Kirkwood. Although the final score was 0-0, both teams played hard. The team won their last two games 13-0 and 12-0 at the expense of Normandy and Clayton.

The "C" team, piloted by Coach Smith, played a limited schedule this year due to transportation difficulties. Regardless of this fact, the boys managed to come through the season with a .500 average. The team led off by beating Clayton 7-0. Next Webster played host to Kirkwood, but came out on the short end of a 14-0 score. The team split their last two games, beating Clayton for a second time 27-7, but dropping a tough one to Kirkwood 7-0.

With the close of the gridiron season, Webster's cagers began to practice, and in two weeks the squad was cut to fourteen boys. To get in shape, the Mossmen played a practice game with Brentwood, winning 31-28.

The regular season began at C. B. C., where the Statesmen trounced their hosts, 36-21. The next two encounters were league games which Webster dropped to Clayton, 32-24, and to Normandy, 31-26. Frier was the top scorer with ten points against the speedy Greyhounds; and Painter was the swish man, with ten against the Vikings.

During the Christmas holidays, Webster lost two games in the Normandy Tournament, one to Southwest, 34-22, and one to Roosevelt, 19-18, in overtime. The Websterites battered Maplewood 30-20, but they were shaded by their traditional rivals, Kirkwood, 36-33. The Statesmen won at St. Charles on Frier's free throw in the last minute, 25-24. Webster then lost four consecutive games: to U. City, 35-34; Clayton, 32-28; Normandy, 41-39; and Kirkwood, 53-33. The scoring honors were taken by: Painter with seven tallies at Clayton, Head with twelve points against the Vikings, and Frier with fourteen points in the Pioneer clash. Ending their scheduled season in glory, the Mossmen defeated Ritenour 31-24, U. City 41-23, and Wellston 28-17. Captain Jack Painter scored twenty-two points in the Indian massacre.

In the C. B. C. subregional tournament, Webster throttled C. B. C. 40-22, and crushed the Pioneers of Kirkwood 47-34. In the final tournament game, however, Maplewood conquered 27-17. In the district tournament Webster cooled off Wellston 35-26. This victory earned Webster the right to clash with mighty Cleveland, which had twenty-two consecutive victories. The Statesmen played valiantly but were shaded 32-29. In the final game against St. Louis U. High the Statesmen were defeated 41-36. Thus Webster was fourth in district basket ball for the 1943-44 season.

Freshmen and Sophomore Basket Ball

Under the leadership of Mr. Walton Smith, the sophomore squad enjoyed a very successful season, winning thirteen and losing four of the scheduled and tournament games. Three out of the four losses were at the hands of Clayton, the all-suburban sophomore champs; and the other loss was to Normandy. The sophomore squad won second place in the sophomore tournament at Wellston, and the only game they dropped was the final to Clayton, 30-28. Charlie Stephens and Steve Schmid placed on the all-suburban sophomore teams.

The frosh squad was led by Mr. Leonard Bryant, and the Junior High cagers played "heads up" basket ball all the way in, chalking up a record for the season of six games won and two lost. The freshmen beat Kirkwood, Maplewood, and Wydown each twice, and they lost their only two games to Hanley.

Nitzsche, White, Reifsteck, Marvin Hofmeister, Keller, Hoener, Melvin Hofmeister, Grinnell, French.
Vorhoff, Fitch, Taussig, Bedell, McGrew, Green, Busch, Wilm.

The cindermen, under their new leader, Coach Bryant, began practice on March 10 in preparation for their five scheduled dual meets. Boys were also entered in the State, District, and County track meets. The team was composed of many promising athletes, including both veterans of last year, such as Bill Peterson, George Bedell, and Dick Muth, and several newcomers to the sport.

Baseball

The baseball team, under Coach Walton Smith, began practice in the middle of March this year to prepare for their fifteen scheduled games. The coach was able to rely on a capable pitching staff, excellent fielding, and such sluggers as Frier, Heidinger, Straub, and the team captain, Tod Martin. Especially encouraging is the fact that all the pitchers and most of the infielders will be back next year.

Reynolds, Holling, Peterson, N. Carlson, A. Carlson, Barnes, McKelvey, Gilman, Coach W. Smith.

Diary

SEPTEMBER:

- 13—School starts today. Of course everyone is late—tradition, you know! OH, those crew cuts!
- 20—Already the sophomore and junior girls are catching the eyes of our senior boys!
- 24—After that assembly everyone was sure to buy his activity ticket, especially Bob Browne.
- 30—Pep Club party . . . pop corn all the way up to Lockwood!

OCTOBER:

- 2—First football game of the year, Webster getting off to a wonderful start by beating C.B.C., 14-0.
- 15—G. A. A. Rush Party. Every gal had a solid time.
- 18—First senior class meeting—looks like we're off to a good start!
- 29—Faculty party—cowboy Joe Barnett, Casey Jones Verby, and many others.
- 30—The Statesmen are handed their first defeat at the hands of U. City, 28-6.
- 31—Boo! Hallowe'en—the night for witches and goblins to howl—as if they didn't every night anyway.

NOVEMBER:

- 1—Student contributions purchased Webster's No. 1 fan, Beelzebub, Satan's brother!
- 3—Sadie Hawkins Day Dance—how those fellas ran!
- 6—Senior class gives its first big dance—a ripping success.
- 10—Returned paratrooper Richard Mills got us all in the proper mood for understanding the meaning of Armistice Day.
- 15—"Ladies in Retirement" begins a successful run.
- 19—A swell pep assembly and our budding junior geniuses, Wright, Stone, and Jehle, introduce their new fight song.
- 24—Webster's biggest and best bonfire.
- 25—There just aren't words to express such sorrow! Kirkwood just couldn't possibly have won this year, but they did, 20-14.
- 27—Our annual Friendship dance and two more lovely queens are added to the royal ranks, Ruth Richardson and Maxine Cooper.

DECEMBER:

- 10—The Webster Statesmen (basket ball this time) defeated C.B.C., 36-21, in their first game.
- 20—The most beautiful vesper service yet.
- 22—Webster brings Christmas to Jefferson Barracks—and holidays officially begin.
- 24—Christmas Eve! "Hark the Herald Angels Sing"—well, we sing anyway, even if we aren't angels.

JANUARY, 1943—OOPS, '44:

- 3—Back to school! Notice everyone sporting luscious bracelets!
- 11—Out at Kirkwood, hundreds see Kirkwood all but steal the game from us by the score of 36-33.

- 13—Senior-Faculty basket ball game—boy, did we all get fooled when the "wise old men" completely swamped the seniors, 50-10.

- 21—Which was worse, losing that Turkey Day game or losing this basket ball game to U. City in the last eight seconds by the score of 34-35? Truly the heartbreaker of the season.

- 25—Frank Buck comes to town, and naturally we all flock to see and listen. Boy, teacher's gonna wonder why I flunk that English final tomorrow!

- 27—Our ranks are split, as Misters Morse, Goslin, Latta, and Hixson proudly send off the January grads.

FEBRUARY:

- 5—The Pep Club gives its annual dance, the Basket-Ball—with round tickets yet!

- 10—Senior class goes over the top—in the purchasing of its Jeep.

- 15—Webster upsets the mighty U. City team by nearly twenty points.

- 29—Leap Day, Leap Year—come on, girls, let's go!

MARCH:

- 13-18—"You Can't Take It With You"—simply riotous what with snakes, ballet, fireworks, etc.

- 17—"Erin gae braugh!" It's a great day for the Irish!

- 24—Choir gave snatches from "Oklahoma" in very colorful costume, complete with sursery, too.

- 25—Big student council dance in the Armory.

APRIL:

- 1—April Fool! Despite everyone's pranks, the Echo Paper had the last laugh!

- 9—Sunrise Service rained out (or rather, rained in), but Don Torr made a fine speech anyway.

- 11—To the tune of "Temptation," Pan-Am presented their assembly, celebrating Pan-Am week.

- 14—Senor Roberto Maximilliano Guerrero de la Rosa crooned to us, and then sent us all in stitches over his recitation on "Thee Duck!" Hi-Y gave its Hop!

- 16-22—Latin week is hilariously celebrated by a parody on Vergil at Club meeting. Also there was display, poster, and essay contest.

- 22—A fanfare, please—big dance of the year—every gal and her man was there to see Jimmy Allen crowned Kampus King.

- 27—At last, Senior jewelry came—and just at the time when everyone was "broke!" St. Louis County musical Festival at U. City.

MAY:

- 8—Both schools primary election. "My candidate is _____."

- 10-13—La-la-la-la—"Good News!"

- 22—Despite no Pette Davises or Paul Lukases, "Watch on the Rhine"—a terrific success!

JUNE:

- Exams—best Prom ever—graduation (no matter how much we Seniors joke, we're still sad to leave)—Senior picnic, that one last fling!
